Translation (English):

Man does not reach actionlessness by not performing actions; nor does he attain perfection by mere renunciation.

Chapter 3, Verse 5

Sanskrit:

na hi kaṁhchit kṁhaṁam api jñtu tiṁhṁhatyakarma-kṁit
kṁryate hyavaṁhaṁ karma sarvaṁ prakṁiti-jair guṁaiṁ 3.5

Transliteration:

na hi kaṁhchit kṁhaṁam api jñtu tiṁhṁhatyakarma-kṁit
kṁryate hyavaṁhaṁ karma sarvaṁ prakṁiti-jair guṁaiṁ

Word Meanings:

na—not; hi—certainly; kaṁhchit—anyone; kṁhaṁam—a moment; api—even; jñtu—ever; tiṁhṁhati—can remain;
akarma-kṁit—without action; kṁryate—are performed; hi—certainly; avaṁhaṁ—helpless; karma—work; sarvaṁ—all;
prakṁiti-jaiṁ—born of material nature; guṁaiṁ—by the qualities

Translation (English):

Verily, no one can remain for even a moment without performing action; for everyone is made to act helplessly, indeed, by the qualities born of Nature.

Chapter 3, Verse 6

Sanskrit:

karmendriyṁi sanyamya ya ṁste manasṁ smaran

Translation (English):

All actions are wrought in all cases by the qualities of Nature alone. He whose mind is deluded by egoism thinks, "I am the doer."

Chapter 3, Verse 28

Sanskrit:

tattva-vit tu mahabho gua-karma-vibh gayo
gu guehu vartanta iti matv na sajjate 3.28

Transliteration:

tattva-vit tu mah^{abho} gu^a-karma-vibh^{gayo}
gu^{gu} gu^{ehu} vartanta iti matv^{na} sajjate

Word Meanings:

tattva-vit—the knower of the Truth; tu—but; mah^{abho}—mighty-armed one; gu^a-karma—from gu^{as} and karma; vibh^{gayo}—distinguish; gu^{gu}—modes of material nature in the shape of the senses, mind, etc; gu^{ehu}—modes of material nature in the shape of objects of perception; vartanta—are engaged; iti—thus; matv^{na}—knowing; na—never; sajjate—becomes attached

Translation (English):

But he who knows the Truth, O mighty-armed Arjuna, about the divisions of the qualities and their functions, knowing that the Gunas, as senses, move amidst the Gunas, as the sense-objects, is not attached.

Chapter 3, Verse 29

Sanskrit:

praktīter guṇa-sammūhāḥ sajjante guṇa-karmasu
tān akītsna-vido mandān kītsna-vin na vichīlayet 3.29

Transliteration:

prak^{ti}ter gu^{ṇa}-samm^ūh^āḥ sajjante gu^{ṇa}-karmasu

Translation (English):

Brahman is the oblation; Brahman is the melted butter (ghee); by Brahman is the oblation poured into the fire of Brahman; Brahman indeed shall be attained by one who always sees Brahman in action.

Some again offer the organ of hearing and other senses as a sacrifice in the fire of restraint; others offer sound and other objects of the senses as a sacrifice in the fire of the senses.

Chapter 4, Verse 27

Sanskrit:

सर्वान्द्रिया-कर्मणि प्रण-कर्मणि च अपरे
तमा-संयामा-योगं गन्तुं जुहोति ज्ञाना-दपि ॥ ४.२७ ॥

Translation (English):

Even if thou art the most sinful of all sinners, yet thou shalt surely cross over all sins by the raft of knowledge.

Chapter 4, Verse 41

Sanskrit:

योगसंन्यस्ताकर्मणा ज्ञानासांछिन्नासंशयात्
तमावन्ता न कर्माणि निबध्नन्ति धनार्जय ॥ 4.41 ॥

Transliteration:

yoga-sannyasta-karm_{na} jñ_{na}-sañchhinna-san_{hayam}
tmavanta_{na} karm_i nibadhnanti dhanañjaya

Word Meanings:

yoga-sannyasta-karm_{na}—those who renounce ritualistic karm, dedicating their body, mind, and soul to God;
jñ_{na}—by knowledge; sañchhinna—dispelled; san_{hayam}—doubts; tma-vantam—situated in knowledge of the self;
na—not; karm_i—actions; nibadhnanti—bind; dhanañjaya—Arjun, the conqueror of wealth

Translation (English):

He who has renounced actions through Yoga, whose doubts have been dispelled by knowledge, and who is self-possessed—such a one is not bound by actions, O Arjuna.

Chapter 4, Verse 42

Sanskrit:

तस्मादज्ञानासम्भूता हृदिस्था ज्ञानसिन्धोऽस्मिन्
च हित्वा नासंशया योगं तिष्ठन्ति ह्यहो भवता ॥ 4.42 ॥

Transliteration:

tasm_d ajñ_{na}-sambh_{ta} h_{it}-stha_h jñ_{na}-sin_{dh}o_{smi}n_{ti}
ch_hittvaina_{na} san_{hayam} yogam_{ti} h_hotti_h ha bh_hata

Word Meanings:

tasm_t—therefore; ajñ_{na}-sambh_{ta}—born of ignorance; h_{it}-stham—situated in the heart; jñ_{na}—of knowledge;
asin_{dh}—with the sword; smi_n—of the self; chhittv_{na}—cut asunder; enam—this; san_{hayam}—doubt; yogam—in karm yog; ti_hh_{ha}—take shelter; utti_hh_{ha}—arise; bh_hata—Arjun, descendant of Bharat

Translation (English):

Therefore, with the sword of knowledge (of the Self), cut asunder the doubt of the self, born of ignorance, residing in your heart, and take refuge in Yoga. Arise, O Arjuna!

Page 107 of 368

Arjuna said, "O Krishna, you praise renunciation of actions and also yoga. Please tell me conclusively which is better of the two."

Chapter 5, Verse 6

Sanskrit:

संन्यस्य तु महर्षिर्दुःखं लभ्यते योगतः
योगयुक्तो मुनिर्ब्रह्मा नश्चिदधिगच्छति ॥ ५.६ ॥

Transliteration:

sannyas tu maharshi duḥkham labhate yogataḥ
yoga-yukto munir brahma na chire dhigachchhati
